

Wildewood Learning

Kathy Magnusson, M.Ed

Connectedness * Input * Learner * Ideation * Arranger

Trainer, coach and speaker

Cultivate a W.I.L.D. learning environment

Kathy Magnusson, M.Ed, owner of Wildewood Learning, is an expert trainer, coach, and speaker. She has worked with educators and youth service professionals worldwide. Kathy is a public school teacher, social and emotional learning specialist, and strengths-based leadership coach that shows educators and youth service professionals what is needed to cultivate safe and effective learning environments. She calls these types of environments "W.I.L.D" environments for learning!

ADDITIONAL TRAINING

- Social and Emotional Learning is for Everyone
- Strategies to Navigate the Waves of Change
- Discover Your Core Values
- Emotional Intelligence for the Workplace
- Increase Your Optimism
- Power of Relationships
- Understanding Resilience

STRENGTH-BASED RESILIENCE

When we focus attention on our strengths and assets, we are more able to use them in our jobs and lives on a daily basis. This allows us to "show up" at our best, and we can more easily connect with and identify the strengths of others. Learn the brain science behind strengths, identify your specific strengths and reflect on how you currently use them on the job. Empower yourself to influence your work environment in proactive and positive ways!

Trainings are 2 hours in length and can be presented virtually or onsite

Call (218) 242-5318 or email Kathy@wildewoodlearning to engage Kathy for your event